1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 This policy applies to all pregnant staff employed by Ivy Education Trust (IET) including support staff and teachers regardless of the number of hours worked per week.

2.0 Policy

- 2.1 This policy sets out the rights of IET employees to maternity leave and pay in accordance with national, local and statutory conditions of service. Nothing in the provisions shall be construed as providing rights less favourable than statutory rights.

3.0 Principles

- 3.1 Employees are not discriminated against on the grounds of their pregnancy in addition to being free to exercise their rights to maternity leave, paid time off for antenatal care, maternity pay and the right to return to work.
- 3.2 Full consideration is given to the full range of flexible working arrangements described in the Flexible Working Policy when requested by women returning to work after maternity leave and these are arranged wherever possible in response to such requests.
- 3.3 An employee who is the child's father, or is the partner or nominated carer of an expectant mother, is allowed to take paid maternity support leave at or around the time of the birth in accordance with the local conditions of service.
- 3.4 Around or after the time of the birth, requests by the child's father or the partner or nominated carer of an expectant mother for flexible working arrangements are treated sympathetically.

Procedure

4.0 Notification of pregnancy

- 4.1 The employee should notify their line manager as soon as possible so that the employee can find out about their entitlements and the employee and manager can identify any potential health and safety implications by completing a risk assessment and the manager can begin to prepare appropriate maternity cover. Please see guidance on Expectant & New Mothers at Work located within each school.
- 4.2 From 6 April 2024 from the point the employee notifies IET of their pregnancy the provisions in the Protection from Redundancy \(Pregnancy and Family Leave\) Act 2023 will apply. For employees returning from maternity leave this will apply until 18 months after the child's birth date.

- 4.3 Where HR ONE is the payroll provider the Line Manager should complete the on-line maternity form as soon as they have been informed and Payroll will input the details onto iTrent. Notifications will then be sent to the employee regarding their entitlements and to the Line Manager outlining the information they need, including a pregnancy risk assessment.
- 4.4 The employee should inform their line manager of the date they wish to start their maternity leave as soon as possible, but at least by the 15th week before their EWC. If the line manager has already completed an online maternity form then they should complete an 'amendment to maternity' online form to advise payroll of this date. The employee will be able to change their mind about when they wish to start their maternity leave providing they gives at least 28 days' notice in advance (unless this is not reasonably practicable).
- 4.5 The employee should give their line manager their MAT B1 form. This should be uploaded onto iTrent by the Line Manager (the employee will receive the MAT B1 from their GP or Midwife stating when the baby is due, not before 20 weeks before the expected date of birth).
- 4.6 If a performance appraisal is due whilst the employee will be on maternity leave, the line manager should agree with the employee to either carry this out before they start their leave or upon their return.
- 4.7 Employees should discuss the management of their annual leave with their manager at the earliest opportunity so that they are able to take their annual leave around the needs of the service.

5.0 Ante natal care

- 5.1 In order to exercise their right to time off the employee must notify the line manager of their pregnancy and obtain their line manager's authorisation to take time off and provide evidence of their antenatal appointments, if requested (an appointment card will suffice as evidence). The employee needs to record a paid leave of absence in Employee Self Service
- 5.2 Please see the 'Maternity and Adoption Support Leave Policy' for those accompanying a pregnant woman at an antenatal appointment.

6.0 Commencing maternity leave

- 6.1 Maternity leave can commence at any time from 11 weeks before EWC. It must commence no later than the day after childbirth.

- 6.2 If the employee is absent from work due to a pregnancy related illness during the 4 weeks before the EWC, their maternity leave will commence automatically.
- 6.3 If childbirth occurs before the date the employee notified as the day they intended to start maternity leave then their maternity leave will commence on the day after the day of childbirth. If this is the case, their line manager must complete the 'amendment to maternity' online form giving the correct start date for their maternity leave.
- 6.4 If a temporary replacement is required to cover the employee's maternity leave, the temporary employee must be informed in writing that their employment will be terminated on the return to work of the employee from maternity leave.

7.0 Contact during maternity leave

- 7.1 Managers will maintain contact with employees during their maternity leave period to discuss issues such as return to work and will keep employees informed of vacancies, any significant workplace developments and training opportunities.
- 7.2 Contact will not constitute 'work' and would not therefore count towards the 10 days 'keeping in touch' days and neither would contact bring the maternity leave period to an end.

8.0 Following the birth

- 8.1 Once the baby is born the employee should send a copy of the birth certificate to the line manager. The line manager should then forward a copy of the birth certificate to the employee's personnel file.
- 8.2 If a premature, still birth or miscarriage occurs, the employee is advised to notify their line manager as soon as is reasonably practical so that arrangements can be put in place to organise their maternity entitlements. The line manager should then liaise with their Payroll provider.

9.0 Returning to work

- 9.1 The employee cannot return to work in the two weeks following the day of childbirth. This is Compulsory Maternity Leave.
- 9.2 Return at the end of Ordinary Maternity Leave – If the employee chooses to return when the ordinary maternity leave period ends after 26 weeks, they do not have to give specific notice, although they should confirm to their line manager the date they wish to return so that arrangements can be made.

- 9.3 Return during Ordinary Maternity Leave – If the employee chooses to return before the 26 weeks have elapsed, they must give, in writing, if requested, at least 21 days’ notice before their return. Where the notice given is less than 21 days the employer may postpone the return to ensure 21 days notice but not beyond the end of the maternity leave period.
- 9.4 Return at the end of Additional Maternity Leave – If the employee chooses to return when the additional maternity leave period ends, they do not have to give specific notice.
- 9.5 Return during Additional Maternity Leave – If the employee chooses to return before the 52 weeks have elapsed they must give, in writing if requested, at least 21 days’ notice before their return. Where the notice given is less than 21 days the employer may postpone the return to ensure 21 days notice but not beyond the end of the maternity leave period.
- 9.6 Altering an early return date – If an employee changes their mind about the date they intend to return, where they have already notified an early return date, they must give 21 days notice before the new date, and at least 21 days before the original early return date.
- 9.7 Return to work and sickness absence – If the employee is unable to return to work on the expected date due to sickness, the employee has still exercised their right to return by complying with the notification procedure. They will then commence a period of sickness absence, and be treated as any other employee who is absent due to sickness, including the payment of sick pay.
- 9.8 The line manager and employee should calculate any entitlement to public/extra statutory holidays that occurred during the maternity leave period and make arrangements for the taking of any substitute days.
- 9.9 The line manager and employee should review the risk assessment.
- 9.10 Returning to work and breastfeeding
- 9.11 IET recognises the need to support employees to continue breastfeeding after returning to work
- 9.12 Employees who plan or need to express breastmilk during working hours should approach their supervisors prior to returning to work to discuss an appropriate arrangement through supportive discussion whilst completing a risk assessment with their line manager;
- 9.13 Line managers should support breastfeeding employees on return to work by providing an enabling environment for those who are breastfeeding.

9.14 Specific measures include the following:

- Allowing lactation breaks (one 30-minute break every four hours) for expression of breastmilk for at least six months after childbirth, and to adopt a flexible approach thereafter.
- Provide somewhere for hand washing which does not involve a public toilet. This can be a kitchen area.
- Provide a private space with a comfortable chair and an electric outlet for operating the breast pump. This can be through the use of screens if buildings do not allow for separate rooms.
- Provide refrigerating facilities for safe storage of expressed breastmilk. There is an expectation that the employee will ensure that this would be clearly marked and placed in a separate box within the fridge to prevent colleagues from opening the storage system.
- All other staff members are requested to support their colleagues to breastfeed by adopting a positive and accepting attitude.
- Consider if needed flexible approaches to enable the continuation of breastfeeding when a baby will not take milk from a bottle. This might involve the baby's carer attending the offices, at the cost of the mother, for the 30minute break every four hours, to allow the mother to breastfeed. This would need a separate risk assessment undertaking.

10.0 Flexible working requests

10.1 An employee returning to work may make a request to work flexibly, as set out in the IET Flexible Working Policy. Types of flexible work patterns include the consideration of flexi-time, part-time working, job share as well as other flexible working arrangements.

11.0 Choosing not to return to work

11.1 The employee must give normal notice of resignation if they do not intend to return to work after their maternity leave.

11.2 The employee will have received a lower rate of maternity pay or will have to pay back any half pay received, as part of contractual maternity pay. Payroll will notify the employee of their particular circumstances.

11.3 The last day of maternity leave will be the last day of service, unless the employee has given written notice that they wish to resign on an earlier date.

11.4 The line manager will need to ensure that an online Leavers form is completed, confirming the end of the employee's employment.

Guidance

12.0 Ante Natal Care

- 12.1 Any pregnant employee has the right to paid time-off to attend antenatal care. The employee will normally be required to attend antenatal classes (such as relaxation and parenting classes), which are usually at set times during the week, and ante natal appointments where the employee arranges the time with their midwife. The employee should liaise with their line manager regarding time-off giving as much notice as possible (see procedure).
- 12.2 Please see the Maternity and Adoption Support Leave Policy for those accompanying a pregnant woman at an antenatal appointment.

13.0 Maternity leave and pay

- 13.1 Entitlement to maternity pay is based on the employee's length of continuous service. The flowcharts provide more detailed information (appendix 1/2).
- 13.2 Maternity leave cannot commence more than 11 weeks before the Expected Week of Childbirth (EWC).
- 13.3 All women are entitled to both 26 weeks ordinary maternity leave and 26 weeks additional maternity leave, thus providing a right to one year's maternity leave in total, regardless of length of continuous service.
- 13.4 If the employee is absent from work due to a pregnancy related illness during the 4 weeks before the EWC, their maternity leave will commence automatically.
- 13.5 Maternity leave will not be treated as sick leave and will not therefore be taken into account for the calculation of the period of entitlement to sickness absence.
- 13.6 Employees may be eligible for one or more of the following payments -
- Statutory Maternity Pay (SMP) - An employee is eligible for SMP providing they meets certain criteria. The Payroll Section will advise the employee of their entitlement. SMP payments are higher rate SMP (90% of average weekly earnings) for the first six weeks, then flat rate SMP for the next 33 weeks or 9/10ths average weekly earnings if this is less. Current rates are available from the Directgov website.
 - Maternity Allowance (MA) - Where the employee is not eligible for SMP they may be able to claim MA from the Department for Work & Pensions. The Payroll Section will send the employee a claim form to complete. MA payments are flat rate for 39 weeks. Current rates are available from the Directgov website.

- Contractual Maternity Pay (CMP) - This will depend on the employee's length of service (appendix 1/2).

- 13.7 If an employee has declared that they will be returning to work following the birth, they must return to IET for a period of time in order to 'protect' their Contractual Maternity Pay (CMP). Where the employee holds more than one post, they must return to each post in order to protect the CMP which has been paid against that employment.

The period for which the employee must return is 3 months for support staff and 13 weeks for teachers, regardless of the number of hours worked. Contractual maternity payments are made at the normal pay interval (less normal deductions) or withheld until the employee returns to work, when the amount is paid as a lump sum (less normal deductions).

- 13.8 If an employee decides not to return to work (i.e. resigns) or the contract ends for a reason other than redundancy whilst on maternity leave, CMP ceases when the employment ends. The employee is required to repay the half pay elements of CMP (12 weeks) paid up to and including the last day of employment if they do not return to IET employment (as set out in 13.7). Payroll will notify the employee of the amount. (This applies to employees on permanent and fixed term contracts).

If an employee holds more than one post and chooses to return to one or more but not to all posts, they will be required to repay the half pay elements, if applicable, paid against the post(s) which they choose to not return to (as set out in 13.7).

- 13.9 If an employee is made redundant whilst on maternity leave, CMP ceases on the last day of employment. The employee is not required to pay back any half pay elements of CMP (12 weeks) paid up to and including the last day of employment. (This applies to employees on permanent and fixed term contracts).

- 13.10 The employee will not have to refund SMP/MA payments.

- 13.11 If the employee is made redundant during maternity leave any maternity pay should be topped up to the equivalent of full pay during the notice period (section 88 of the Employment Rights Act 1999).

- 13.12 To be eligible for maternity leave and pay employees must meet specific notification requirements (see procedure).

14.0 Health & Safety

- 14.1 The manager and/or the relevant risk assessor is/are required to carry out specific risk assessments for all employees of childbearing age.
- 14.2 When an employee notifies their manager that they are pregnant it is important that this risk assessment is reviewed, in consultation with the employee and the risk assessor.
- 14.3 A further review should take place when the employee returns to work following maternity leave.
- 14.4 Should the risk(s) be significant the line manager will need to take action. Advice can be sought from the academy's occupational health provider. This may include:
- i) Removing the hazard(s) or avoiding the employee's exposure to the risk(s);
 - ii) Advising the employee of the risk;
 - iii) Informing the employee of any action you will take to ensure that the employee is not exposed to a risk that could cause harm.
- 14.5 Removing the employee from the workplace if the level of risk is greater than the level of risk expected outside the workplace. This can be done by temporarily adjusting their working conditions and /or hours of work, offering the employee suitable alternative work (if any is available) or if neither of these is feasible, suspending the employee from work (with pay) for as long as necessary to protect their safety and that of the child.
- 14.6 The Health and Safety Executive (HSE) has advised that 'pregnancy should not be equated with ill health, it should be regarded as part of everyday life and its health and safety implications can be adequately addressed by normal health and safety procedures'.

15.0 Risk of Rubella - Teachers

- 15.1 If in the early months of pregnancy, a teacher is advised by an approved medical practitioner to absent themselves from school because of the risk of rubella, they shall be granted leave with full pay, provided that they does not unreasonably refuse to serve in another school where there is no such undue risk.

16.0 Annual leave entitlement during maternity leave (not applicable to Teachers or support staff who take their holidays during academy closure periods)

- 16.1 Maternity leave does not affect annual leave entitlement, i.e. when taking maternity leave the employee will still be entitled to their full annual leave allowance within the year(s) in which the maternity leave falls.
- 16.2 If an employee's maternity leave spans two annual leave years, they will be able to carry forward their contractual entitlement into the new leave year. However, the manager should be proactive about managing the amount of leave that the employee will have, and discuss the options available as early as possible (see procedure). These options could be to:
- take annual leave before the start of the maternity leave;
 - start the maternity leave earlier than anticipated and fit in the annual leave before returning to work;
 - return before the end of the maternity leave so that the remaining leave can be taken before the end of the annual leave year;
 - take annual leave at the end of maternity leave, fitting it in before returning to work.

Any leave carried over must be taken by 31st August of the subsequent leave year.

- 16.3 During maternity leave annual leave will accrue in the same way as it did before the absence began. If the employee returns to work on a reduced hours basis, on the date of return to work the annual leave will begin to be calculated at the new pro-rata rate.
- 16.4 If the employee decides not to return to work, annual leave will accrue up to the final date of service.
- 16.5 If during the maternity leave period the employee subsequently decides not to return to work and too much annual leave has been taken then there will be a requirement to pay back some of the annual leave taken in advance.

17.0 Annual leave entitlement during maternity leave (applicable to Teachers and support staff who take their holidays during academy closure periods)

- 17.1 (a) The leave year for teachers, for the purpose of establishing annual leave entitlement, whilst on maternity leave is 1 September to 31 August.

(b) The leave year for support staff on NJC terms and conditions, for the purpose of establishing annual leave entitlement, whilst on maternity leave is 1 April to 31 March.

- 17.2 Following the introduction of the Working Time (Amendment) Regulations 2007, which came into effect on 1 October 2007, the statutory leave entitlement has increased to 28 days (5.6 weeks), pro rata for those working part time. This is not an additional entitlement to annual leave on top of the current academy closure arrangements.

17.3 Employees on maternity leave are entitled to the statutory annual leave under the Working Time Regulations. Employees who take maternity leave must be able to take the statutory annual leave at a time outside of their maternity leave. Annual leave entitlement can be offset by any period of academy closure that has taken place in the leave year in question i.e. both before and after the maternity leave period.

17.4 On return from maternity leave, employees must be allowed to take any outstanding leave during term time during that leave year if there are insufficient academy closures to accommodate leave in that leave year. Where the return from maternity leave is so close to the end of the leave year that there is not enough time to take the entire annual leave entitlement, employees must be allowed to carry over any balance of leave to the following leave year. Employees can be required to take this during the remaining periods of academy closure after the statutory annual leave for that leave year has been accommodated.

17.5 It will not be possible for employees to obtain payment in lieu of untaken annual leave instead of taking leave during the leave year. However, payment in lieu may be necessary, if the employee does not return to their job following maternity leave. Payment will be made in accordance with the Working Time Regulations and is not pensionable.

18.0 Public and extra statutory holiday entitlement during maternity leave (not applicable to teachers)

18.1 Full time employees - During both periods of Ordinary Maternity Leave (OML) and Additional Maternity Leave (AML), an employee is entitled to accrue public holiday entitlement as those public holidays and extra statutory days fall, with a substitute day of paid leave being provided at another time.

18.2 Part time employees - During both periods of OML and AML an employee is entitled to accrue pro-rata public holiday and extra statutory day entitlement, as those days fall, and will be given substitute paid leave at another time. Eg, where an employee works three days per week, they will receive an entitlement to 3/5ths of the total number of public holiday and extra statutory days that fall during their whole maternity leave period.

18.3 Term time employees - Term time only employees should be given a substitute day of paid leave during term time, where a public holiday/extra statutory day falls during their OML and AML period. This should be managed locally, in the same way as the additional day of annual leave after 10 years continuous service.

18.4 Substitute leave may be taken immediately following the end of the period of maternity leave, which should allow for any maternity cover arrangements to be managed most effectively. Alternatively, any substitute leave may be added to the annual leave entitlement to be taken upon the return to work. Any adjustments to annual leave should be made by the line manager on iTrent.

- 18.5 Technology Day – For support staff, where the former Technology day falls within the period of OML and AML, entitlement should continue to accrue and this entitlement added to annual leave.

19.0 Car users and maternity leave

- 19.1. An employee who is an essential or lease car user is still entitled to these benefits whilst they are on maternity leave, with some limitations and requirements.
- 19.2 An employee is entitled to receive the full essential user lump sum for the full 26 weeks of OML and 26 weeks of AML.
- 19.3 Where HR ONE is the payroll provider, the manager should contact the payroll expenses team on (01392) 383000 if the employee is an essential user, to ensure that payments during the OML and AML period continues.
- 19.4 The employee is entitled to keep the lease car for the period of their maternity leave. Any contributions the employee makes to the lease will have to be maintained during maternity leave. Deductions will be made automatically during their paid maternity leave, with arrangements being made between the employee and the Car Lease Section for payments during the unpaid period of maternity leave. The department will continue to make its contribution during the full period of the employee's maternity leave.

20.0 Pension contributions during maternity

20.1 Teachers:

- During the period of paid maternity leave, pension contributions will be paid and deducted from the teachers pay in the usual manner.
- Any unpaid period will not be pensionable/reckonable.
- Contact Teachers Pensions on 0845 6066166 and ask for the Fact Sheet on Maternity/Paternity which is also available online at www.teacherspensions.co.uk

20.2 Support Staff:

- During any period of paid or unpaid statutory maternity leave, employees who are members of the Local Government Pension Scheme (LGPS) will pay basic pension contributions on the pay actually received but IET will pay pension contributions on the pay the employee would have received had they been at work (Assumed Pensionable Pay (APP)). The service will count as normal for pension purposes, i.e. as if the employee had been at work.

- During any period of unpaid additional Maternity Leave, pension will not accrue, unless the employee elects to pay Additional Pension Contributions (APC) by buying the 'lost' pension.
- If an employee elects to buy the 'lost' pension by paying an APC within 30 days of returning to work, the employer must pay 2/3rds of the total cost with the remaining 1/3rd being paid by the employee. If the election is not made within the 30-day period then the employee will pay the full cost, unless the employer chooses to contribute towards the cost.
- If the employee wishes to buy the 'lost' pension they need to read the employee fact sheet ABSENCES – Buying lost pension from 1st April 2014 by paying Additional Pension Contributions (APC) which can be found on the Peninsula Pensions website (www.peninsulapensions.org.uk), which explains how to calculate the cost and then what the process is.
- Where an employee works on a Keeping in Touch Day, both the employee and the employer will pay contributions based on the pay the employee receives for that day and it will count in full for pension purposes (See Appendix 3)

21.0 Working during maternity leave/'Keeping in Touch' days

22.1 Keeping in Touch days should be claimed by the employee through Time & Expenses claims on Employee Self Service.

21.1a A woman can do 10 days' work during their maternity leave without bringing their maternity leave to an end. Working for part of a day will count as one day. (Only hours worked will be paid).

21.2 Work is defined as any work done under the contract of employment and may include training or any activity undertaken for the purposes of keeping in touch with the workplace.

21.3 A manager cannot insist that a woman carries out any work and equally a woman cannot insist on being given any work to do.

21.4 A woman's maternity leave will not be extended due to the fact that they have carried out some work during this period.

21.5 A woman will not lose any SMP for working up to 10 days.

21.6 A woman will be paid their normal rate of pay for any work done under the contract of employment and this will be offset against any SMP due for each day.

21.7 A woman will lose their SMP for any week in which they do any further work.

21.8 A woman cannot carry out any work during the first two weeks following the birth of the child.

22.0 Maternity rights in the event of a still birth or miscarriage

22.1 Stillbirth or miscarriage before the 25th week of pregnancy - If an employee miscarries or has a stillbirth earlier than the 25th week of their pregnancy they will commence a period of sickness absence and be treated as any other employee who is absent due to sickness, including the payment of sick pay.

22.2 Stillbirth from 25th week of pregnancy onwards - A woman who has a stillbirth from the 25th week of pregnancy onwards will be eligible to full maternity scheme benefits.

22.3 Birth of a live child before the 25th week of pregnancy onwards - A woman who gives birth to a live child, even if the child later dies, at any point in their pregnancy will be entitled to full maternity scheme benefits.

23.0 Right to return to work

23.1 Employees have the right to return to work, following maternity leave, subject to specific requirements (see Procedure).

23.2 'Return to work' means to the job to which the employee was employed under their original contract of employment, and on terms and conditions not less favourable than those which would have been applicable to their if they had not been absent. 'Job' for this purpose, means the nature of the work that they is employed to do and the capacity and place in which they is so employed.

23.3 Where it is not practicable by reason of redundancy for IET to permit the employee to return to work in their job, the employee shall be entitled to be offered a suitable alternative vacancy where one exists. The duties in that post should be suitable for the employee and appropriate to the circumstances. Also, the capacity and place in which they are to be employed and their terms and conditions of employment should not be substantially less favourable to their than if they had been able to return to the job in which they were originally employed. Suitable alternative employment as described above may also be offered in exceptional circumstances other than redundancy (e.g. a general reorganisation), which would have occurred if the employee had not been absent, necessitate a change in the job in which they were employed prior to their absence.

24.0 Return to IET Service following a Resignation and Break for Maternity Reasons (Support Staff only)

24.1 Where an employee returns to IET service following a break for maternity reasons, or reasons concerned with caring for children or other dependants they will be entitled to have previous service taken into account in respect of the following provisions provided that the break in service does not exceed eight years and that no permanent paid full-time employment has intervened:

- Sickness provisions
- Maternity provisions
- Adoption provisions
- Period of notice to terminate employment

24.2 For the purpose of the calculation of entitlement to annual leave, the eight years time limit does not apply, provided that no permanent paid full-time employment has intervened.

24.3 The calculation of continuous service for rights against unfair dismissal or redundancy payments are not included within this contractual provision.

24.4 If an employee chooses to return to IET they will be asked to complete and sign a form confirming their service and that no permanent paid full-time employment has intervened.

Costs

There may be a need to replace an employee on maternity leave. The formulas below will help managers to work out how many replacement hours they are able to employ an individual for, whilst still remaining within their staffing budget.

Support Staff

Length of service	Week	Employee Receives	Cost
At least 26 weeks continuous service but less than 1 year's continuous service	1	Normal pay which when added to SMP (90% of average weekly earnings) or MA (flat rate) will secure the equivalent of normal pay	If entitled to SMP, 8% of the 90% plus the balance of normal salary. If entitled to MA, normal salary less MA. If no entitlement to statutory pay, one week's normal pay
At least 26 weeks continuous service but less than 1 year's continuous service and returning to work	2 - 6	SMP - 90% of average weekly earnings	If entitled to SMP, 8% of the 90%.
	7 - 39	SMP - flat rate (current rates are available from the Directgov website)	If entitled to SMP, 8% of flat rate (which may be less if employee is a low earner)
At least 1 year's continuous service	1 - 6	CMP / SMP - 90% of average weekly earnings	If entitled to SMP, 8% of the 90% If entitled to MA, 90% of normal pay less MA If not entitled to SMP or MA 90% of normal pay
At least 1 year's continuous service and returning to work	7 - 18	CMP - 50% of average weekly earnings + SMP - flat rate	50% of average weekly earnings + 8% of flat rate if entitled to SMP providing half pay + SMP does not exceed full pay
	19-39	SMP - flat rate	8% of flat rate if entitled to SMP

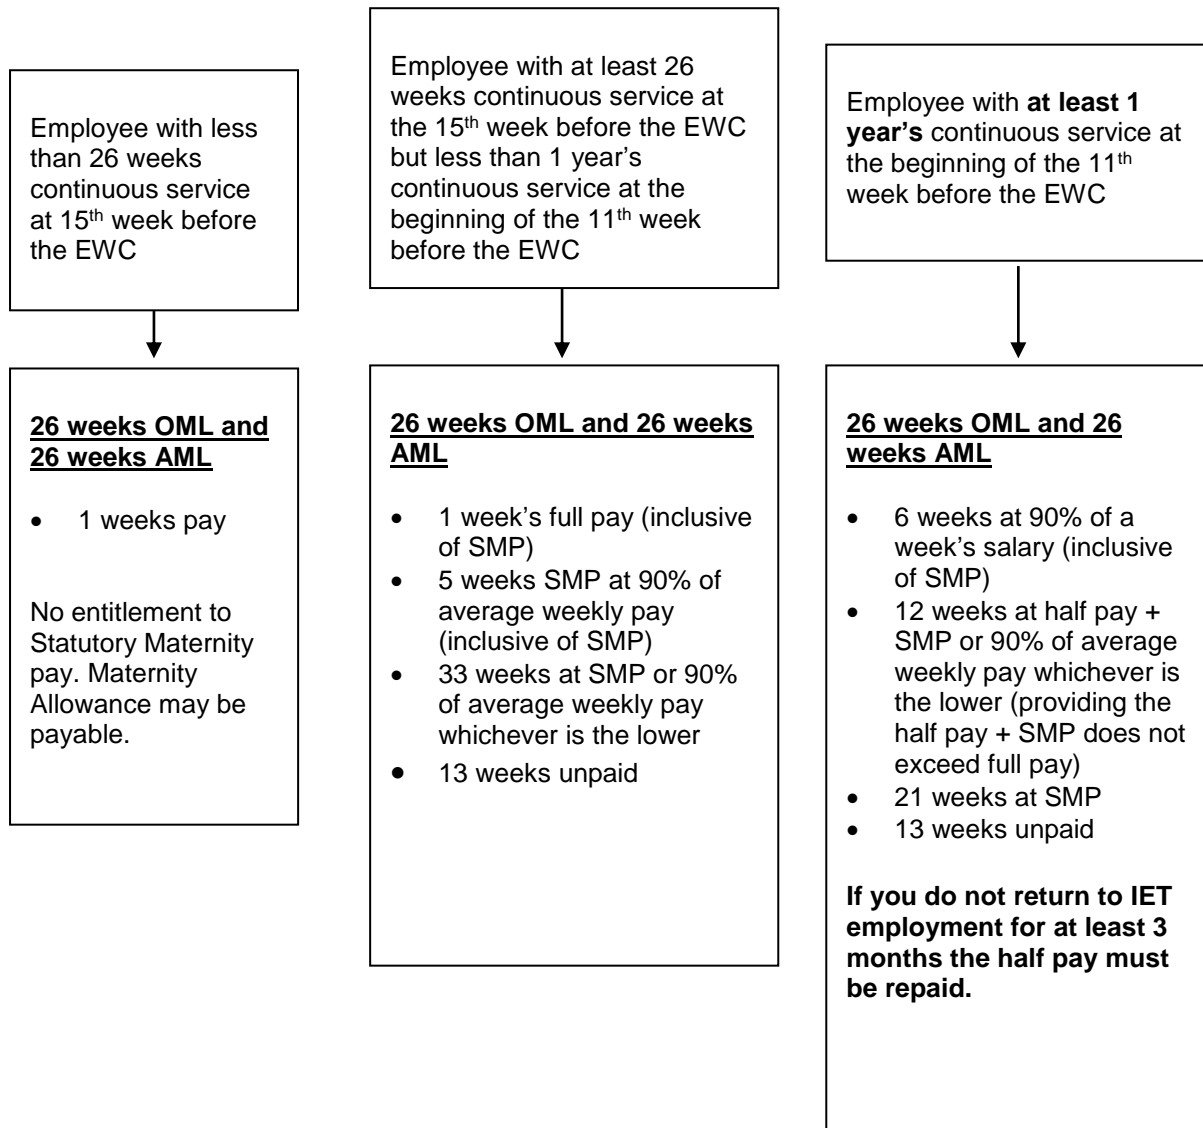

Teachers

Length of service	Week	Employee Receives	Cost
Less than 26 weeks continuous service with IET and less than 1 year's continuous service with one or more LAs	1-26	Nil	Nil
Less than 26 weeks continuous service with IET but at least 1 year's continuous service with other LAs If returning to work	1-4	Normal pay when added to flat rate MA will secure the equivalent of normal pay	If entitled to MA, normal salary less MA. If no entitlement to statutory pay, 4 weeks salary.

Appendix 3 – Pension Contributions during Ordinary Maternity Leave (OML) and Additional Maternity Leave (AML)

Type of Leave	Member pays basic pension contributions on	Employer pays contributions on	How pension counts under the LGPS
OML (wks 1-26)	Actual OMP and/or SMP, if any, received	Notional full pay (Assumed Pensionable Pay)	Counts in full as if the employee had been at work
Paid AML (wks 27 – 39)	Actual pay received	Notional full pay (Assumed Pensionable Pay)	Counts in full as if the employee had been at work
Unpaid AML (wks 40 – 52)	Employee opts to pay Additional Pension Contributions (APC) to cover unpaid period	Employee requests details of lost pensionable pay from Employer and uses the calculator on www.lgps2014.org to calculate the APC	If employee confirms option to pay APC within 30 days of returning to work, employer pays two-thirds of the APC cost. If the option is made more than 30 days after returning to work, the employee pays the whole APC and the employer pays nothing.	Record is credited with the amount of lost pension bought by the APC
	Employee does not opt to pay contributions for unpaid AML period	Not applicable - no contributions are due	Not applicable - no contributions are due	Does not count

Note: If an employee is paying additional regular contributions (ARCs) and/or additional pension contributions (APC) to purchase extra annual pension, or is paying additional survivor benefit contributions (ASBCs) to uprate some or all of their pre 6 April 1988 membership so that it counts in calculating a surviving nominated co-habiting partner’s pension, or is paying additional pension contributions to purchase added years of membership, those additional employee contributions continue to be paid throughout the whole period of any maternity, paternity or adoption leave (unless the employee opts to stop paying those contributions). AVCs continue to be paid on any pay received (unless the employee opts to stop paying those contributions). Any AVCs that are being paid in respect of additional life cover must be maintained during the whole period of leave or the policy will lapse and the life cover lost.
